PERFORMANCE DIMENSIONS	COMMENTS

1. Leadership | Carl Harness:

Mr. Gillette has continued to provide adequate leadership throughout the pandemic period. Efforts to improve staff/board communications and relationships have been previously discussed. Mr. Gillette always presents himself and represent the organization in a professional manner.

Amanda Jae:

Gordon's Leadership skills have been evident to me by his response to various center directors' criticism of the ELC. Gordon has acted and responded to these concerns with his team in an effective and responsive manner.

Dianne Jacob:

I can only respond to this question based on my observation of staff and their actions. That said, Gordon seems to enable staff to succeed through empowering them to do their jobs with innovation and compliance in mind.

Dr. Stephie Holmquist Johnson:

I Believe Gordon has done a very good job this year dealing with a variety of issues where his leadership was questioned. If anything, I would like to see him stand up more for what he and the organization is accomplishing.

Dustin Portillo:

Gordon does a great job creating, motivating, and guiding the staff at ELCHC. His vision and forward thinking has moved the needle in a positive direction that includes everyone, from the top down. Listening to staff discuss the ELCHC who where with the prior administration speak highly of the changes.

Dr. Shawn Robinson:

Mr. Gillette provide confident and competent leadership during this evaluation period which included both the Delta and Omicron COVID waves, concerns over the diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts both internally and externally, and uncertainties about the future of Early Learning in Florida. Even with the uncertainties, Mr. Gillette was able to guide his team to focus new and recurring resources to improve student outcomes and provider quality.

Adam Giery:

Overall operational direction and organizational trajectory over the evaluation period is greater than years prior.

Luke Buzard:

Gordon clearly is vested in the success of the ELC and maintains positive relationships locally and at the State level for the benefit of the organization. Gordon is very positive with his staff and I have witnessed him celebrate their achievements regularly.

Dr. Lise Fox:

Gordon is persistent in pushing the ELC in becoming more effective, more responsive, and strategic in meeting the mission.

Kelley Parris:

Score 1.5 I think the CEO motivates the ELC staff to support the ELC Vision but I do not believe that Vision aligns with the community. I do not see any calculated risks that are being taken to:

- 1) meet the needs of the provider base that are unique at this time and for their unique situation(s);
- 2) any supports provided to the community should be done in consultation with the provider base. The Provider Portal issues should have been addressed long ago. The ELC staff is disrespectful in the community; I have received multiple calls concerning staff making disparaging remarks about me, Dr. Daphne Fudge and Ms. Candi Olson. I brought this to the CEO's attention in my situation. There was a virtual meeting where multiple staff members were disrespectful to the Board. The issue of integrity comes into question with several instances: The Legal Services RFP, the approval of the Audit in a timely and responsible manner. The Board's major responsibility is fiscal oversight. I also think it is disrespectful for the Chair to call out the Board Members that made a choice NOT to complete this evaluation. It is a choice and would not have completed it unless being recognized as one whom had not evaluated the CEO, as I am always hopeful things will change and improve with feedback.

Dr. Jacquelyn Jenkins:

Gordon always offers valuable insight into the organization's compass and advances progressive agendas appropriately. He remains vision and mission focused.

Tracye Brown:

Mr. Gillett has done a good job of setting the course for the ELCHC during his tenure. He leads his team with a clear focus on improvement. He has structured the organization to maximize all assets and resources. Recognizing the need to address and improve the issues related to equity and inclusion, Gordon moved quickly to begin working on a plan.

2. Strategic Management and Administration

Carl Harness:

Mr. Gillette has done an excellent job leading the ELCHC through this critical period in time. The organization has maintained a strong presence within the community despite the challenges faced by all during the past two years.

Dianne Jacob:

Gordon's business acumen and experience makes him adept at handling the oversight needed to effectively manage the goals of the ELC. His engineering mind looks for solutions that strategically move the coalition forward while keeping the stringent State compliance requirements front of mind.

Dr. Stephie Holmquist Johnson:

Gordon took in all the issues that were presented over the year and developed a clear path to addressing, developing, and implementing an action plan in a timely manner.

Dustin Portillo:

His vision and forward thinking has moved the needle in a positive direction that includes everyone, from the top down. Listening to staff discuss the ELCHC who where with the prior administration speak highly of the changes.

Dr. Shawn Robinson:

Mr. Gillette continued to work with his team on improving services to the community in an intentional manner that focused on key issues related to quality childcare which included providing training to center teachers and directors, providing greater access to quality childcare centers by eliminating the wait list, and guiding rate increases that will translate to living wages for many of the childcare center workers.

Adam Giery:

The overall management of the ELC has clearly improved outcomes for children and families in the Hillsborough community. An area for growth is the continued fortification of relationships with funding agencies.

Luke Buzard:

Gordon has made great hires and is involved in the financials and compliance of the organization to the extent appropriate.

Kelley Parris:

Score: 1.75

The proactive needs (that I am aware of) that are/have been addressed are duplications of existing services in the community. This is where partnerships are valuable and dollars can be spent closing the gaps that exist. I think the CEO has done a fine job stabilizing the funding but much of that is due to Federal and State dollars during COVID relief. There is a crisis in the community with the provider base and severe dysfunction between ELC and their funded agencies. The listening tour was restrictive according to the few providers I heard from who attended. The method in which diversity and inclusion was addressed by ELC proved ineffective in the provider community.

Dr. Jacquelyn Jenkins:

Gordon prepares and utilizes his fiscal knowledge and abilities in a superior manner. He is strategically driven and leads his team members with the same level of concentration. He remains proactive within his visionary goals and operationally offers effective outcomes towards the betterment of the Coalition.

Tracye Brown:

The operations of the ELCHC have improved greatly under Mr. Gillette's leadership. The Family Services team has worked diligently to be responsive to the needs of families and to offer support. Resource Development and Community Relations team have increased the presence of the Coalition in the community through participating in community events and their internet presence.

3. Accountability with Board, Funded Agencies, and Community

Carl Harness:

All of my interactions with Mr. Gillette have been professional and transparent. As stated earlier there have been previous conversations with the Board as a whole on methods to improve on organization communications with the Board and clients that they serve.

Amanda Jae:

Gordon and his team have always been available to me as a board member and a center director. I am incredibly impressed with his accountability with the SR wait list.

Dianne Jacob:

Even through the pandemic, I have felt that Gordon has keep me and others on the board well informed. During each board meeting he has reviewed the coalitions goals and his actions to achieve those goals.

Dr. Stephie Holmquist Johnson:

Again, he addressed the issues and worked to correct them while keeping the board informed.

Dustin Portillo:

Gordon does a great job at "knowing his audience". He can relate to anyone in the room and has a firm grasp for the accountability his position has in regards to the diversity and inclusiveness the ELCHC needs. All stakeholders have a voice and that is very much needed to hear opposing ideas how they can be implemented.

Dr. Shawn Robinson:

Mr. Gillette has shown a responsiveness to the Board collectively and Board members individually with an attentiveness to the Board interests and strengths. This responsiveness can be seen by the executive and management teams in the quality and thoroughness of reports during and between board and committee meetings. There does continue to be some friction between the ELC and one of its funders, the Children's Board. However, overall, accountability measures appear to be strong with regards to constituents.

Adam Giery:

During the prior year, a number of situations arose in which Mr. Gillette owned the solution despite having not creating the problem. Mr. Gillette's communication to the board indicates a leader that does not shy away from leadership.

Luke Buzard:

Gordon is a clear leader in the State to promote the value of the Hillsborough ELC and ELC's across the state.

Dr. Lise Fox:

I have a sense that Gordon holds himself accountable for the organization and the actions of the organization.

Kelley Parris:

Score: 2 on establishing outcomes, benchmarks, and measurable goals for ELC.

Score: 0 on accountability for the action of ELC employees and transparency.

Dr. Jacquelyn Jenkins:

Gordon performs with accountability.

Dr. Lise Fox:

CEO PERFORMANCE DIMENSION COMMENTS FY 2021-2022

	Tracye Brown:  Mr. Gillette holds himself and his team accountable for all functions of the Coalition.
4. Judgement in	Carl Harness:
Decision-Making	When dealing with challenging situations Mr. Gillette has displayed quick and efficient decision-making qualities.
	Dianne Jacob:
	While every decision cannot be perfectly thought through and executed, Gordon uses the information that he has and formulates a plan. Once more is know, he makes adjustments to improve performance of the organization. The work of the ELC is complicated and sometimes without a lot of direction from the State, so action is often followed with new information as it comes available. He does a good job of incorporating new information into action.
	Dr. Stephie Holmquist Johnson:
	While Gordon does a very good job keeping the board informed, in some cases over this past year, the board should have been more involved in decision making.
	Dustin Portillo:
	Not observed
	Dr. Shawn Robinson:
	Mr. Gillette has an analytical mind and can see both forest and the trees when making decisions and providing direction. Even so, he consults Board members with expertise in the areas he has deficiencies or gaps to analyze. Additionally, he works with Board members on understanding their perspectives on potential actions so as to make the best decisions with the broadest possible support and effectiveness. Mr. Gillette is not afraid to admit weakness or when an decision needs to not happen or be redirected.
	Adam Giery: An area of strength for Mr. Gillette. During the prior year, the organization encountered a number of situations that could have illicit an emotional response. However, Mr. Gillette maintained a clear focus on outcomes rather than personal motives.

I have been impressed with Gordon's leadership when there are sensitive or difficult issues and his willingness to consider diverse perspectives and implement strategic action.

Kelley Parris:

I think that is supposed to read (on emotion). I think the issue and manner in which the data breach was handled speaks volumes to this benchmark. This may have been mitigated early but it was not addressed with the provider base until the clock ran out. The fact that a data breach could have destroyed providers was not taken into consideration, it indicates to me, the only concern was for ELC leadership. It was not in any way transparent nor decisions made with any regard for the community. The consequences of this decision could have been fatal for many. The provider base learned of this breach from the press not ELC! I spoke with the CEO early on about the ramifications to the provider community and my grave concerns. I understand we are all vulnerable to these egregious events but how they are handled lay the foundation of trust.

Dr. Jacquelyn Jenkins:

Gordon performs with accountability.

Tracye Brown:

Gordon has handled delicate situations with much discretion and professionalism.

5. Financial Resource Management

Dianne Jacob:

The ELC is in good financial shape, despite the issues associated with the pandemic or perhaps because of the greater emphasis on childcare needed to getting the workforce activated. Gordon is competent in managing the fiscal responsibilities of the organization.

Dr. Stephie Holmquist Johnson:

Gordon excels at this. In some cases, I would like to see a little more transparency regarding where funds come from and go to.

Dustin Portillo:

Not observed

Dr. Shawn Robinson:

Mr. Gillette includes the Board in major financial decisions and keeps Board members aware of key transactions on a regular basis. There is a regular review of the budget and how priorities present themselves in the line items.

Adam Giery:

Based upon the financial reports provided to the board, the organization appears to be financially sound. An area for growth consider a top sheet or cover letter to board members advising of key financial decisions requiring our vote/approval.

Luke Buzard:

Gordon has made great hires and is involved in the finances of the organization appropriately to ensure viability and compliance.

Kelley Parris:

This has been a difficult time with so much funding coming into the system so quickly. This illustrates the importance of planning early; establishing a schedule (every three years or whatever time frame is comfortable for your base), to formally evaluate your providers needs so when these situations arise you are poised to meet the previously documented unfunded gaps. Not that anyone could adequately planned for COVID but ELC would have been in a better position to maximize the utilization of COVID funding.

Dr. Jacquelyn Jenkins:

Gordon excels within this area.

Tracye Brown:

Mr. Gillette has exhibited fiscal responsibility with regularly received funds and the additional funds allocated as a result of the CARES Act and American Rescue Plan.

6. Responsiveness

Carl Harness:

As it relates to inquiries I have had or my need to reach out to the CEO, Mr. Gillette has been very responsive to my requests. All response have been handled in a professional manner.

Amanda Jae:

I very much so appreciate Gordon's ability to respond when all the information is available which does not mean having to have an immediate response at a board meeting. Gordon's responsiveness is even and dependable.

Dianne Jacob:

Same comments as previously stated.

Dr. Stephie Holmquist Johnson:

He does a good job keeping the board updated.

Dustin Portillo:

Not observed

Dr. Shawn Robinson:

Mr. Gillette and his team are very responsive to Board requests for information, adjustment of details in presentations and reports, and adjusting priorities of the ELC.

Adam Giery:

During the evaluation period, Mr. Gillette swiftly responded to board, community, and staff requests.

Dr. Lise Fox:

Gordon is highly responsive to Board requests and communicates clearly about deadlines, strategic priorities, and organization activities.

Luke Buzard:

Gordon is incredibly pro-active especially with his board.

Kelley Parris:

The Audit has a time sensitive date for submission; fiscal oversight is major responsibility of the Board (not the Governance Committee). I am not in any way disparaging the Chair of Governance, but one person cannot accept an Audit for the full Board of Director's nor can a committee. The Auditor should present the findings to the full Board and the full Board should accept and/or have the ability to question any findings or compliment the Finance team for clean Audits. I requested information on several occasions, the latest being the salary schedule for staff, which is not filled or not filled in a timely manner, without having to make a formal 119 request. I am not sure ELC respects or has any regard for a Board.

Dr. Jacquelyn Jenkins:

	Gordon performs with accountability.
	Tracye Brown:  Mr. Gillette makes himself available for any questions by this board member and provides timely and ongoing updates as necessary.
7. Communication	Dianne Jacob: No additional comments. Previously addressed.
	Dr. Stephie Holmquist Johnson: Gordon excels at stating and explaining the facts regarding an particular issue.
	Dustin Portillo: Gordon's emails are very detailed and organized like himself. He does a great job at being as transparent as possible with all communication he sends the board of directors.
	Dr. Shawn Robinson:  Mr. Gillette has a direct and strong communication style with the Board. His team works with him to package information in a form that the Board can digest and use for policy decisions and in representing the ELC in their respective communities.
	Adam Giery: Gordon's measured and thorough board updates provided clarity for organizational direction. An area for consideration - utilizing lengthy written communication may inhibit the overall outcome of thwarting issues with adversarial parties. I respect the necessity for such tools to ensure uniform updates, however I believe the letter's should be used sparingly.
	Luke Buzard: Gordon goes out of his way to ensure the board is aware of current issues and successes.
	Kelley Parris: Transparency is an issue when the Governance Committee runs the Board.
	Dr. Jacquelyn Jenkins:

	Gordon communicates extremely well within his role as CEO. He is willing to accept responsibility as necessary and is unafraid to verbalize his thoughts and concerns. He uses his position as a community-based leader with compassion; especially in critical situations.
	Tracye Brown: Communication has improved under the leadership of Mr. Gillette. I find him to be transparent and forthcoming with information.
Additional Comments	Dr. Jacquelyn Jenkins: Gordon Gillette remains a critically contributing figure in his role as CEO. He performs his duties with commitment and determination. Gordon is an effective leader.
	Tracye Brown: Gordon has had laserlike focus on the objectives of the Strategic Plan. This focus has led to implementation and successful execution of multiple strategies.
	Dr. Shawn Robinson: Mr. Gillette and his team have done great things throughout the year. However, there are still challenges relating to diversity, equity, and inclusion and how the consistency in which the ELC is perceived by the community.
	Kelley Parris: My concern is the community. I will not be recommending a salary increase for the reasons in the above response.
	Commissioner Gwen Myers: The ELCHC should do a better job of communicating effectively with black and brown providers. Black and brown providers have contacted me regarding retaliation if they raised concerns about the program and/or holding up their pay checks. The Director and staff needs to find ways to improve communication for a successful programming for the children attending the provider centers. I look for positive results on the next evaluation.
	Dean Sheila Rios:
	Mr. Gillette has led the organization through the challenges and opportunities that COVID and the pandemic had on early childhood providers in our area, Through grant administration, educational incentives, and gaps in funding the ELCH assisted centers to stay open and operating during uncertain times and gave facilitated a workforce to return to work.

Dr. Stephie Holmquist Johnson:

This has been a rough year and I believe Gordon has really worked to overcome the variety of issues that have come up for the benefit of the organization and those we serve. My only other comment is that I would like to see more regarding educational training programs for our providers and their staff.

Adam Giery:

The operations of the ELC resemble that of a highly effective Fortune 1000 organization. In my review, Mr. Gillette's style of owning the outcome has advanced the abilities of the organization to serve children in our community.

Cynthia Chipp:

I think that our CEO is doing a great job. Just need to be a little more approachable to the providers, and be willing to sit down with some of them.

Comments  The ELCHC should do a better job of communicating effectively with black and brown providers. Black and brown providers have contacted me regarding retaliation if they raised concerns about the program and/or holding up there pay checks. The Director and staff needs to find ways to improve communication for a successful programming for the children attending the provider centers.

PERFORMANCE DIMENSION #1 LEADERSHIP: The ability to inspire and motivate individuals in a fair and effective manner to achieve peak performance and appropriately leverage authority to achieve business objectives. Exceeds Expectations =Meets Expectations Behaviors may include the extent to which the individual: creates vision and sets = Not Observed = Unsatisfactory the ethical compass for the organization in support of the mission; focuses on effectiveness; takes calculated risks in an effort to improve results; identifies opportunities to improve business processes and expand the organization's services; selects, directs and develops others to succeed; holds self and others accountable; acts with character, professionalism, passion, and integrity. 0 N

Narrative Comments:

Score 1.5 I think the CEO motivates the ELC staff to support the ELC Vision but I do not believe that Vision aligns with the community. I do not see any calculated risks that are being taken to:

- 1) meet the needs of the provider base that are unique at this time and for their unique situation(s);
- 2) any supports provided to the community should be done in consultation with the provider base.

The Provider Portal issues should have been addressed long ago.

The ELC staff is disrespectful in the community; I have received multiple calls concerning staff making disparaging remarks about me, Dr. Daphne Fudge and Ms. Candi Olson. I brought this to the CEO's attention in my situation.

There was a virtual meeting where multiple staff members were disrespectful to the Board.

The issue of integrity comes into question with several instances: The Legal Services RFP, the approval of the Audit in a timely and responsible manner. The Board's major

STRATEGIC MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION: The ability to establish direction and develop effective action plans to accomplish fiscal year goals and carry out the ELCHC's long-range vision. Behaviors may include the extent to which the individual: demonstrates a strategic focus and forward thinking and is proactive in anticipating the needs of the ELCHC's operations that support the goals and objectives of the ELCHC while ensuring the stability of the ELCHC's operations and services; applies complex strategic thinking skills to daily work activities; builds strong relationships with the funded agencies and with the community.

Narrative Comments:
Score: 1.75  The proactive needs (that I am aware of) that are/have been addressed are duplications of existing services in the community. This is where partnerships are valuable and dollars can be spent closing the gaps that exist.
I think the CEO has done a fine job stabilizing the funding but much of that is due to Federal and State dollars during COVID relief.
There is a crisis in the community with the provider base and severe dysfunction between ELC and their funded agencies. The listening tour was restrictive according to the few providers I heard from who attended.
The method in which diversity and inclusion was addressed by ELC proved ineffective in the provider community.

PERFORMANCE DIMENSION #3
ACCOUNTABILITY WITH BOARD, FUNDED AGENCIES, AND COMMUNITY:
The degree and willingness to accept responsibility for the day-to-day and long-term operations of the ELCHC.
Behaviors may include the extent to which the individual: accounts for all of the actions of the ELCHC's employees, both individually and collectively; accepts responsibility for those actions; establishes outcomes, benchmarks, and measurable goals for the organizations and funded agencies; discloses the results in a transparent manner to the Board and the community; is accountable for the actions and results of ELCHC employees and funded agencies as they relate to the mission.	1 = Unsatisfactory	2 =Meets Expectations	3 = Exceeds Expectations	N/O = Not Observed

Narrative Comments:
Score: 2 on establishing outcomes, benchmarks, and measurable goals for ELC.
Score: 0 on accountability for the action of ELC employees and transparency.

PERFORMANCE DIMENSION #4
JUDGMENT IN DECISION- MAKING:
The degree to which the Chief Executive Officer uses critical thinking skills to analyze available facts, business responsibilities, and probable outcomes and then pursues an appropriate course of action despite pressure or ambiguity.		ons	ations	þ
Behaviors may include the extent to which the individual: bases decisions on fact, rather than one motion; handles sensitive and difficult issues in a professional manner; evaluates alternative options; eliminates personal bias in decision-making; uses logical and sound professional judgment to anticipate possible consequences.	1 = Unsatisfactory	2 =Meets Expectations	3 = Exceeds Expectations	N/O = Not Observed

Narrative Comments:
I think that is supposed to read (on emotion)
I think the issue and manner in which the data breach was handled speaks volumes to this benchmark. This may have been mitigated early but it was not addressed with the provider base until the clock ran out. The fact that a data breach could have destroyed providers was not taken into consideration, it indicates to me, the only concern was for ELC leadership. It was not in any way transparent nor decisions made with any regard for the community. The consequences of this decision could have been fatal for many.
The provider base learned of this breach from the press not ELC! I spoke with the CEO early on about the ramifications to the provider community and my grave concerns.
I understand we are all vulnerable to these egregious events but how they are handled lay the foundation of trust.

PERFORMANCE DIMENSION #5
FINANCIAL RESOURCE MANAGEMENT:
The degree to which the Chief Executive Officer plans, develops, organizes, and administers the adopted budget and utilizes efficiently the organization's resources to provide high-quality services to meet financial obligations and to ensure long-term financial sustainability.			ns
Behaviors may include the extent to which the individual: controls costs by staying within established budget limits; displays a clear understanding of financial resources and priorities; makes informed and responsible recommendations and decisions regarding funded agencies and fiscal operations; provides information to assist the Board in making informed decisions regarding budget and management policies.	1 = Unsatisfactory	2=Meets Expectations	3 = Exceeds Expectation	N/O = Not Observed
		/

Narrative Comments:
This has been a difficult time with so much funding coming into the system so quickly. This illustrates the importance of planning early; establishing a schedule (every three years or whatever time frame is comfortable for your base), to formally evaluate your providers needs so when these situations arise you are poised to meet the previously documented unfunded gaps. Not that anyone could adequately planned for COVID but FLC would have been in a better position to maximize the utilization of COVID funding.

PERFORMANCE DIMENSION #6
RESPONSIVENESS:
The degree to which the Chief Executive Officer is receptive and able to effectively adjust his/her plans and behavior to respond to inquiries and apply appropriate actions and strategies in an appropriate, professional, and timely manner.	ory	Expectations	Expectations	rved
Behaviors may include the extent to which the individual: provides timely and accurate answers to questions and concerns; informs others if deadline will be missed and resets deadline; provides status updates; modifies actions based upon obtained information.	1 = Unsatisfactory	2 =Meets Expec	3 = Exceeds Exp	N/O = Not Observ

Narrative Comments:
The Audit has a time sensitive date for submission; fiscal oversight is major responsibility of the Board (not the Governance Committee). I am not in any way disparaging the Chair of Governance, but one person cannot accept an Audit for the full Board of Director's nor can a committee. The Auditor should present the findings to the full Board and the full Board should accept and/or have the ability to question any findings or compliment the Finance team for clean Audits.
I requested information on several occasions, the latest being the salary schedule for staff, which is not filled or not filled in a timely manner, without having to make a formal 119 request. I am not sure ELC respects or has any regard for a Board.

PERFORMANCE DIMENSION #7
COMMUNICATION:
The degree to which the Chief Executive Officer communicates in an open, transparent, effective, and forthright manner to maintain the vision and achieve the goals of the ELCHC while operating under the Florida Sunshine law.		ons	ations	p
Behaviors may include the extent to which the individual: listens and understands; clearly articulates ideas and information verbally and/or through written means; uses appropriate media and methods to provide factual information; provides accurate feedback to others concerning issues; displays tact when providing information regarding ELCHC's business.	1 = Unsatisfactory	2 =Meets Expectations	3 = Exceeds Expectations	N/O = Not Observed
Narrative Comments:
Transparency is an issue when the Governance Committee runs the Board.
